Attention AOL Users,

AFSAC Online (AOL) is transitioning to 2-Factor Authentication. After the transition, you will no longer be able to access AOL with username/password. The Security Cooperation Information Portal (SCIP) will be providing authentication for AOL. In support of this, you will need to register for a SCIP account and obtain an RSA Token by 15 July 2019.

PLEASE OBTAIN AN RSA TOKEN AND GO TO
<https://www.scportal.us/SCIPRegistration/introduction.jsp>
IN ORDER TO REGISTER FOR YOUR SCIP ACCOUNT.

Registration instructions are attached. These instructions are specific for current AOL users that require an RSA Token for access. If you need assistance obtaining a token through the HNTA, please contact the SCIP Help Desk (dsca.sciphelp@mail.mil), otherwise contact the AFSAC Help Desk with questions.

If you already have a SCIP account, no action is needed.
